Academic Year 2026-2027 | Adopted November 12, 2026

Current Florida Status

BGCU has submitted its sworn affidavit for review under the religious-institution framework described in section 1005.06(1)(f), Florida Statutes. As of November 12, 2026, the affidavit is under review for the Commission for Independent Education's November meeting, and the University has not yet received the current annual Letter of Exemption for the review period.

Required Consumer Disclosure

Until the current annual Letter of Exemption is issued, BGCU will not represent that the Commission has issued the current-year exemption letter. Religious exemption from licensure is not institutional accreditation and must not be described as an endorsement of academic quality by the State of Florida or the Commission for Independent Education.

Degree Titles

Official degree titles, transcripts, catalogs, and program materials use the applicable religious modifier, including "Christian," consistent with the religious-vocation nature of the programs.

Accreditation Scope

BGCU will not represent itself as institutionally accredited by an accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Department of Education unless and until such status is formally obtained and current. Memberships, private accreditations, quality-assurance affiliations, approvals, registrations, or exemption status are not described as U.S. recognized institutional accreditation unless legally accurate.

Approved for institutional use upon signature by an authorized officer.
